[the manor of Drayton Basset] ... escheated to the king, who made a lease thereof for many years to one Robinson, whose son mortgaged or sold the same to Richard Paramore, who having much suit and trouble about it, passed over his interest to my lord of Leicester, who left the same to the countess his wife; whereby Sir Christopher Blount, who hath married her, and she, are now owners of the said manor [ERDESWICK 1844 418] ... Oct 4 1578 Robinson's servants forcibly entered Drayton House, for which the lord Stafford, sir Ralph Egerton, Mr. Bagot the sheriff, and 7,000 people, after they had beaten part of it down with cannon, obliged them on the 9th to surrender and sent the three that were found in it to Stafford gaol.
